

Bracknell Forest Natural History Society

A society for everyone interested in nature and its conservation

FROM WALKING WITH WOMBATS TO RESCUING A KOALA

Monday 18th November 2024 -
7.30pm

In the Recital Room at South Hill Park

Maria Island, Tasmania, has become an island reclaimed by wildlife. BBC Wildlife Magazine author and intrepid wildlife photographer ROSS GURDEN will share and illustrate his experiences on the island and also fantastic nuggets of his time travelling across the vast continent of Australia, in search of its unique and varied wildlife.

BFNHS Members: £1

VISITORS WELCOME: £3

Cash at the door - no need to book in advance

South Hill Park is on Ringmead,
Bracknell RG12 7PA

www.bfnathistsoc.org.uk Email: bfathistsoc@rocketmail.com